ARTIST STATEMENT

Doménico CV Talaricos paintings are strongly influenced by the nostalgic and sometimes melancholic beauty of the first half of the 20th century. His portraits are all based on real people from that period. They varnished through time, what's left from them is the photographic remain. Doménico questions the concept of identity and its fading through time. So he uses these photographs and revives people from different decades and sets them up in new fictive arrangements (series).

His style takes inspiration from the era of French Art Déco and combines it with a contemporary and reduced form of modern portraiture to build a bridge between the past and the present.
