

ULRICH WERNER

b 1949 Lives and works in Berlin.

VITA

Education

Degree - Slavic Studies & Political Science - Berlin - DE

Exhibitions

2017

50 Contemporary Artists by Enter Art Foundation - Multipolster - Berlin - DE

2016

Transitions II - Galerie Lattemann - Trautheim bei Darmstadt - DE

2015

Transitions: Vom langsamen Fließen der Bilder - Galerie Artmark - Vienna - AT

2014

Anonyme Zeichner - Pavillion am Milchhof - Berlin - DE

2013

Lange Nacht der Gerichtshöfe - Berlin - DE

2012

Außenweg - Galerie Abakus - Berlin - DE

Mnemosyne - Villa Elisabeth - Berlin - DE

Pure Art - Galerie Wedding - Berlin - DE

2008

Sampilov Museum of Arts - Ulan-Ude - Buryatia - RU

Hintergrund - National Museum Tsheboksary - Tshuwashia - RU

2007

NordArt - Büdelsdorf - DE

Galerie Inga Kondeyne - Berlin - DE

Schwarzweiss - Gallery Kondeyne - Gallery Grob - Berlin - DE

2006

Artinstallation Ernst&Young - Eschborn - DE

2004

Gratwanderungen - Galerie Epikur - Wuppertal - DE

Atelierhaus K19 - Berlin - DE

2003

25 Years K19 - Villa Oppenheim - Berlin - DE

2002

Dmitryj Semenov Gallery - St.Petersburg - RU

2001

Johannes-Kirche - Bochum - DE

2000

Galerie Brockstedt - Berlin - DE

1999

Europe-House - Lake Baykal - Irkutsk - RU

1996

These Eyes' World - Gennadij Ajgis' Artistical Ambit

Manege - National Museum Tsheboksary - Tshuwashia - RU

1995

These Eyes' World - Gennadij Ajgis' Artistical Ambit

Manege - National Museum Tsheboksary - Tshuwashia - RU

1994

Kutscherhaus: Sammlung Stober - Berlin - DE

1992

Verein zur Kunstförderung - Darmstadt - DE

Galerie Scanart - Berlin - DE

1990

Avantgarde Galerie Natan Fedorowski - Berlin - DE

1989

Galerie Scanart - Berlin - DE

ARTIST STATEMENT

My images result from lines. I study form development phenomena - stone formations, flowing water, plant forms. Additional inspiration comes from scientific sources (biology, neurology, astronomy). I draw but not in the direction of a realistic reproduction of the object. On the contrary, I am more interested in energetic potential, in processes and metamorphoses in zones of initial articulation. The forms appear but they could fade into the background again. In technical terms, wax has become a significant component of my work. I mainly use Chinese rice paper for the work on paper, which becomes half transparent after being treated with beeswax and obtains a faintly shimmering surface. A second layer can shine through, but appears removed and adds a kind of second voice to the "front" drawing. This second layer comments, questions and dissolves in the background. Most of the images on a solid subsurface (wood, carton) are initially applied to a pigment dyed wax layer, which forms a characteristic relief-like top layer because of the flow caused by heating and thus also remains visible in subsequent work (scratching, paint application, drawing). The theoretical background of the work is supplied by varied concepts, one focus being on Asian aesthetic. An example here is Francois Jullien's "The Big Picture Has no Form". Jullien postulates a work, "that in no way solidifies and maintains different or simultaneous potential forms, protecting itself from the anecdotal and proving its similarity without being similar in order to envision the availability of the background". The starting point for Jullien is the Chinese "logic of breathing", a process comprising the movements of "taking" and "returning". Given these circumstances, the image surface can also embody blank space or emptiness - an essential counter-image for the copiousness of appearances.

Website

www.ulrichwerner.de

Instagram

@ulrichwerner_art_